

Student Doctors

Our Medical School students have the patient's perspective at the centre of their medical learning. By supporting their training programme you are helping our students to become patient centred doctors of the future.

If you have concerns about being seen by a student, please contact a member of staff.